WEST VIRGINIA

This chapter summarizes West Virginia State statutes related to speed.
West Virginia Code and West Virginia Code of State Rules (CSR)

No person may drive a vehicle at speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under the existing conditions and the actual and potential hazards. 17C-6-1(a)

55 MPH on open country highways, controlled-access highways and interstate highways 17C-6-1(b)(3) & (d) Note: The law provides, that for controlled-access and interstate highways, the speed limit shall be not be less than 55 MPH. 17C-6-1(d)
25 MPH in a business or residential district 17C-6-1(b)(2)
15 MPH in a school zone¹ 17C-6-1(b)(1)

I. Based on engineering and traffic investigations, the Commissioner of Highways² may increase or decrease the above speed limits on any interstate or State highway. 17C-6-2 Note: West Virginia law does not specifically state whether different highway speed limits may be established either for different types of vehicles, for various weather conditions or for different times of the day.

Legislative Request. The West Virginia Legislature has requested (1) that the speed limits on all interstate highways be increased to 70 MPH and (2) that the speed limits on all State four-lane highways be increased to 65 MPH. House Concurrent Resolution 21 adopted in 1997

II. Based on engineering and traffic investigations, a local government may decrease the above speed limits at intersections.³ 17C-2-8(a)(5) & (a)(10) and 17C-6-3(a)

III. Local governments may increase the above 25 MPH speed limit on highways within a business or residential district.³ However, no speed limit shall be >55 MPH. 17C-6-3(b)

VI. Based on engineering and traffic investigations, a local government may decrease the above 55 MPH speed limit on open country highways outside a business or residential district.³ However, no limit shall be <35 MPH. 17C-6-3(c)

V. A local government may decrease the 25 MPH speed limit in a residential district.² 17C-6-3(d)

VI. Based upon an investigation, the Commissioner of Highways² may establish safe maximum speed limits for bridges or elevated structures. 17C-6-5(b) & (c)

I. No person shall drive a motor vehicle at such a slow speed as to impede the normal and reasonable movement of traffic. 17C-6-3a(a)

II. A person, driving at less than the normal speed of traffic, shall drive in the right-hand lane then available for traffic or as close as his speed limit is in effect "during school recess or while children are going to or leaving school during opening or closing hours." 17C-6-1(b)(1)

The State Commissioner of Highways was, formally, the State Road Commissioner. 17-2A-1

If the speed alteration by a local government applies to a State highway or an extension thereof, such alteration must be approved by the Commissioner of Highways. 17C-6-3(e)

Given that 17C-6-3a(b) concerns the establishment of speed limits, the term commissioner, which is not identified in this section, probably refers to the Commissioner of Highways and not to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles. Note: Normally, the term commissioner in Chapter 17C would refer to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles. However, this State official is not usually responsible for establishing speed limits. At the Such level, the authority to establish such limits most often rests with the Commissioner of Highways. 17-2A-1, 17C-1-1 & 17C 1-27

Trucks weighing ≤8,000 lbs. may be driven at the same speed as passenger cars. 17C-6-4
